2017

The BECY Summer School on Bioeconomy aims at giving an overview about current bioeconomic topics.

In a three week programme the BECY Summer School gives you an insight into the whole life cycle of bio-based materials: Bioenergy, Biomaterials, Biotechnology, Food Technology, as well as Ethics and Social Aspects of a future bio-based economy. Furthermore the different National Systems of Bioeconomies are part of the course.

In a mix of lectures, laboratory experience and excursions professors of the BECY partner universities teach you about the topic Bioeconomy in an interactive way and in an international surrounding.

During the first two weeks the students will stay at Hohenheim Main Campus. During the last week they will be living at the agricultural research station Ihinger Hof.

Week 1 Main Campus Hohenheim
Sun, 03 Sept	Arrival
04 - 08 Sept	Introduction to Bioeconomy, Food Science, Biotechnology I, Bioenergy I, Socio-economic and ethical Impacts I, Bioenergy Excursion
